

Appendix 4: Distribution zone bacteriological monitoring and surveillance, and chemical compliance monitoring

The following information is shown in this Appendix. The drinking-water distribution zones are grouped into health districts and LAs. The zones are displayed in alphabetical order within each of the LAs. Explanations of the information contained in this Appendix are given below.

Distribution zone

Name of the drinking-water distribution zone as it appears in the Register.

Zone code

The unique code given to each drinking-water distribution zone, also used on the Register of Community Drinking-Water Supplies in New Zealand (the Register).

Zone population (Pop.)

Estimated number of people supplied by the zone. Numbers in brackets indicate estimated seasonal populations. Missing values or 0 indicate that the population has not been entered into WINZ.

Bacteriological compliance

Compliance with the bacteriological requirements of the DWSNZ:2000 or a code for the reason for non-compliance, as described below:

- Complied Zone complied during 2002.
- E E. coli were detected in more than the minimum allowable monitoring samples (but did comply with the DWSNZ:1995).
- E(F) E. coli were detected in more than 2% of monitoring samples (ie, failed to comply with the DWSNZ:1995).
- A Corrective action was either not carried out, was inappropriate or was not able to be determined following a transgression.
- I Inadequate sampling: the zone was not monitored sufficiently to comply with the DWSNZ:2000.
- (f) Inadequate number of monitoring samples (did not comply with DWSNZ:2000 or DWSNZ:1995).
- (d) Monitoring samples were not taken on sufficient days-of-the-week to comply with the DWSNZ:2000 (but did comply with the DWSNZ:1995).

- (i) The maximum interval between successive monitoring samples was too large to comply with the DWSNZ:2000 (but did comply with the DWSNZ:1995).
- L Analysis was conducted by a laboratory that was not approved for compliance testing by the Ministry of Health.
- N Water from the zone was not monitored for E. coli at all during 2002.
- N(!) Monitoring details not provided by water supplier; assumed no monitoring.
- N(?) Unable to contact water supplier; assumed no monitoring.

P2b determinand assignments (‡)

‡ This symbol beside certain distribution zones within Appendix 4a denotes P2b determinand assignments for those zones. Please refer to Appendix 4b for details of P2b determinand assignments and compliance with DWSNZ:2000. Codes for the reasons for non-compliance with DWSNZ:2000 are described below:

- M Inadequate monitoring.
- T Chemical transgression.
- L Use of a non-registered laboratory.
- C Inadequate corrective action.

Surveillance

Whether or not surveillance was conducted by the DHB during 2002. If so, how the surveillance was conducted: E. coli analysis (E. coli test) or audit of water supplier's records (audit).

- Audit* audit only of the water supplier's records by the DHB.
- FAC test* free available chlorine analysis of drinking-water by the DHB.
- FAC fail* DHB testing found FAC concentration to be below the minimum required level.
- E. coli test* DHB sampling of drinking-water for E. coli analysis (and no E. coli detected).
- E. coli fail* DHB sampling of drinking-water for E. coli analysis (and E. coli detected).

Water supplier

The authority responsible for the drinking-water supply as listed in the Register. No entry in this column indicates that the water supplier has not been specified in WINZ.

Zone grade

The drinking-water distribution zone grading as listed in Water Information New Zealand (WINZ) as at the end of 2002. Zones that have been regraded since December 2002 but before this report goes to press also show the present grade in brackets. No entry in this column indicated that the zone has not been graded and/or the grade has not been entered into WINZ.
